

Career Opportunity

Position Title	Planner
Status	Full-time, permanent
Location	Courtenay, BC

Overview

McElhanney Consulting Services Ltd. seeks a Senior Planner to join our Land Development team in our Courtenay office. The successful candidate will work collaboratively with our multi-disciplinary team of Engineers, Surveyors, Biologists and their related professionals to provide innovative and integrated consulting services to our private and public clients.

We are looking for a holistic thinking, motivated and passionate person to contribute to our diverse rural and urban projects - someone who will bring a critical mind to exploring new approaches and a willingness to implement them in a team environment.

Responsibilities

- Project management of land development projects
- Lead innovative public consultation processes
- Community planning, policy analysis and land use studies
- Business development with existing and new/potential clients
- Supervise and provide direction to technical and professional staff, as needed.

Requirements

- 10+ years' experience in land development approval processes and community planning; excellent client relationships in the Vancouver Island market is an asset. Less experience will be considered for the ideal candidate.
- Public Sector experience would be an asset.
- Preferred candidates will have a Master's Degree in urban planning, or related discipline, or an equivalent combination of education and experience
- Eligibility for membership with the Canadian Institute of Planners
- Proven excellence in problem solving and implementation; capability of providing strategic land use and development advice, managing municipal approval processes and coordinating multidisciplinary teams
- Ability to manage complex land development and community planning projects, prepare development concepts, undertake comprehensive neighborhood planning assignments, liaise and negotiate with government agencies, conduct research, prepare reports, and execute public consultation programs
- Comprehensive understanding of land development processes, applicable government regulations and planning theory
- Strong communication, interpersonal and time management skills with the ability to function in a high volume, challenging environment
- Ability to build and maintain strong business relationships
- A valid driver's license is required.

If this is the opportunity for you, visit www.mcelhanney.com/careers to apply online. We thank all applicants for their interest; however, only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

Established in 1910, McElhanney is a Canadian employee-owned company offering top-quality engineering, surveying, mapping, planning, landscape architecture, and environmental services. At McElhanney, you are working within a strong team that is well-established in the local industry. Our employees value working here because of our varied projects, high levels of autonomy, opportunities for career development, excellent total compensation and benefits package, and great team of professionals

McElhanney is committed to the principles of equity in employment.
View all of McElhanney's current career opportunities by visiting: www.mcelhanney.com/careers

Follow us on:
  