

SENIOR PROJECT MANAGER

Rendition Developments is a vertically integrated organization with an in-house team that manages and executes all aspects of development and construction from acquisition to completion. We focus on up-and-coming urban neighborhoods seeking opportunities with a fresh perspective. Working with innovative architects, we utilize the latest technologies to devise and produce better environments for work and living for all the individuals who use them every day. Just as everyone has a story, every building has one too. With each Rendition project, there is a personal connection. We are equally committed to why we would do it as we are to how we accomplish it.

Founder Brian Roche embodies a lifelong pursuit for good design. His entire professional career has focused on architecture and its intersection with our daily lives. With this in mind, we evaluate every development project not only on the impact on the neighborhood's growth but also the opportunity to create something not done before. Established in 2003, we have invested, developed and managed over $300,000,000+ in office, industrial, residential and purpose-built rental developments.

As Senior Project Manager you will initially be focused on the execution of a concrete mid-rise mixed use project located in Vancouver. We have other comparable projects under development and are actively pursuing additional sites. The intention is to hire a capable person that has the capacity to become an integral part of the leadership team. This could take the form of a Director or VP Construction position in the future. You will work as part of a close knit high performing team and you will gain broad exposure to the development and construction process.

To be considered for this role you must be a proactive individual with excellent communication skills and a high level of initiative. Candidates for consideration should have 10+ years of local relevant industry experience and education (e.g. Architecture, Construction Management, Quantity Surveying, Engineering). People from both a General Contractor and Developer/Builder background will be considered.

In exchange for your hard work and commitment you will earn an attractive compensation package and the opportunity to work on some of Vancouver's most interesting design-oriented urban development projects. In the future there is opportunity for profit sharing or partnership.
